

a

I Was an Island

Allison Weiss

I was an island before you came along,
Put your boat in my sand, your hand in my hand,
Your heart in my songs.

I was a fighter, and I was so brave.
But I lowered my sword when you held me and swore You'd stay, stay, stay oh

I can't do this alone anymore
'Cause I'm no good on my own anymore
What did I do to deserve this?
What did you do to me?
Baby, come back.
You know I don't want to be free.

I was a rebel, but I had a cause,
'Til you came to town, pushed me around,
And showed me what love was

I was a wolf, dear, apart from the pack
But you answered my cries in the dead of the night
And told me that you had my back, oh

I can't do this alone anymore
'Cause I'm no good on my own anymore
What did I do to deserve this?
What did you do to me?
Baby, come back.
You know I don't want to be free.

d

Betty

Derek Clegg

Betty

I wrote you a letter
'Cause I don't have very much to say
And here it is In a paragraph Sorry if my punctuation's lacking.

And how did I get here?

And Betty

I wrote you a postcard
'Cause it always makes my words seem more important Greetings, from New Mexico
The weather here is fine, unlike you.

And how did I get here?

And Betty

I wrote you a letter
'Cause I don't have very much to say Greetings, from Los Angeles
The weather here is cloudy and reminds me of you.

And how did I get here?

n

It's Worth It

Now You See Them

Chorus:

Can we make a time machine, and load it up with memories so clear, we'll see forever?

And even if those memories hurt, it still would be completely worth it, for memories like these.

Well, you and me have got to be the strangest pairing ever seen, you're so short!
And I'm so tall.

But apples, peaches, pumpkin pie,
We only live until we die, and it's worth it for memories like these.

Like la la la, la da da da, la da da da, la da da da la la da da dum, la da da dum da dum la la la la la la la la la la la la da da dum da dum

And seasons change so rapidly, it's difficult to even see the leaves before they're gone.

And friends you thought forgot about you suddenly are reaching out, and it's worth it for memories like these.

June, July, and August passed without a doubt.

Down came the rain, and washed the Summer out.

Out came the sun and dried up all that rain, and the moments of our lives began again.

And it was worth it.

It was worth it for memories like these.

(Chorus)

Music and lyrics by Now You See Them Produced by Eric Willson and Now You See Them Mixed and Engineered by Eric Willson for Omni Artists

S

You And Me

Sharelle

We've been through this before, it seems
And we're coming back to it, again
A place that we hate to know This place we've made our home

I've grown tired of this game; it's always the same Something's really got to change; I can't stand when we're this way

I just want you next to me
Watching the wind lift through the trees
Where there's no room for arguing
Just a moment in time...you and me, you and me

Feels like we're falling apart Like we've forgotten who we are The things we promised have been broken
And all of these feelings, left unspoken

I've grown tired of this game; it's always the same
Something's really got to change; I can't stand when we're this way

I just want you next to me
Watching the wind lift through the trees
Where there's no room for arguing,
Just a moment in time...you and me, you and me

I just want you next to me
Watching the wind lift through the trees
Where there's no room for arguing
Just a moment in time...you and me, you and me

Z

A Love Like That

Zia Hassan

we watched the mountains from the car right as the summer turned to fall and I said I want a love like that a thousand feet tall and when the wind shakes this house we would stay safe in these four walls and I'll whisper I want a love like that solid like a rock

I've got your back if you've got mine our hearts & hands intertwine

I'll lift you up if you fall through
'cause I've got a love like that with you and even when the skies get dark we ride the waves until it's calm whispering I want a love like that that keeps me hanging on and when we dance step by step moving together in space and time I'll whisper I want a love like that in the perfect frame of mind and I'll love your soul if you'll love mine follow me the sky, our stars align I'll be the sun, you'll be the moon

'cause I've got a love like that with you

precious time let's taste every moment whatever the weather brings we can't rewind so let's grow slow together and our children years from now they'll see the way you look at me and they'll say, I want a love like that as deep as the sea and I'll walk your path if you'll walk mine let's make a life our own design

And with this vow
Our bond is true
'cause I've got a love like that with you oooooooooooooooooooooooooooo

*To all the artists involved in these compilations and their loved ones.
To my family. To David W. Boles.*

To the application developers, hardware engineers, telephone companies and ISPs.

*And, to Meenakshi, my brilliant, beautiful wife.
~ Dananjay*

Package released under a

Cover art by yeah where is my mind? design Curated by Dananjay Anandan

diyml05 / Sept 2010